Abortion RIGHTS CAMPAIGN

It's time to act!

In March, Strike4Repeal saw thousands of people occupy O'Connell Bridge, march on the Dáil, and take to the streets across Ireland and abroad. In April, the Citizens' Assembly called for abortion rights in a wide range of circumstances. In June, the Taoiseach confirmed a referendum on the 8th Amendment for 2018.

This is our chance to reclaim control over our own bodies for everyone in Ireland.

For 34 years, the 8th Amendment has done untold damage to the lives, safety, and health of individuals and families across Ireland. Since the last March for Choice a pregnant child was sectioned after seeking an abortion, suicidal women were denied access to abortion for not being 'suicidal enough' and in Northern Ireland, women have been prosecuted for procuring abortions. One law for the rich, another for the poor prevails, both north and south.

For these women and children, for Michelle Harte, for the 14-year-old Miss X, for Savita Halappanavar, for Ms Y, for all of the thousands who have had to travel and the thousands more who have been unable to, we march.

We need full repeal of the 8th Amendment. We need expansion of abortion access in Northern Ireland. We need access to free, safe and legal abortion for all who want it, and we need it now. We have waited too long. We have been patient too long. We are tired of waiting.

We need to act, our government needs to act, and YOU need to act. Join us on September 30th and make your pro-choice voice heard. It's time.
